

SaaS Communications Order Management

Salesforce and Aria

In preparing for software-defined 5G networks, Communication Service Providers (CSP) are radically adapting their BSS architectures to streamline and automate customer order management in the zero-touch digital era.

Aria and Salesforce have partnered to offer Communications Order Management from concept-to-cash-to-care, as a cloud-native SaaS solution for both legacy and next-generation services. Our combined multi-industry expertise creates an advantage for CSPs as they adapt, coordinate and verticalize with partners, enterprises, and channels using virtualized networks and cloud services for profitable revenue growth.

Gain a business advantage in the coordination era

Strategic Growth

Diversify beyond connectivity

Multi-industry product catalog and marketplace expertise enables the convergence and launch of commercial offers containing telecom and non-telecom products at x10 faster TTM than legacy BSS.

Smart Products

Curate adaptive offers for complex products and packages

Reduce SKU explosion and build adaptive offers for definable services, partner products, and channel solutions powered by assisted and selfcare portals for B2X and B2B2X business models.

Redefine The Billing Experience

Intertwine ordering, using, and paying to improve revenue assurance

Move beyond pre-paid/post-paid models and deliver a unified and interactive hybrid billing experience to improve collections by 70% and reduce assisted care by 30%.

Lower BSS Total Cost of Ownership

Gain cost advantages of SaaS

Deliver up to 80% lower TCO than traditional billing and revenue management solutions. Reconnect costs-to-revenue. Automate software updates. Forget infrastructure. End the costly change request culture.

Empowered To Automate

100% Configuration Culture

No-code business configuration enables agility in changing products, processes, and data needs. Open and secure data sharing enables a data- and AI-driven organization.

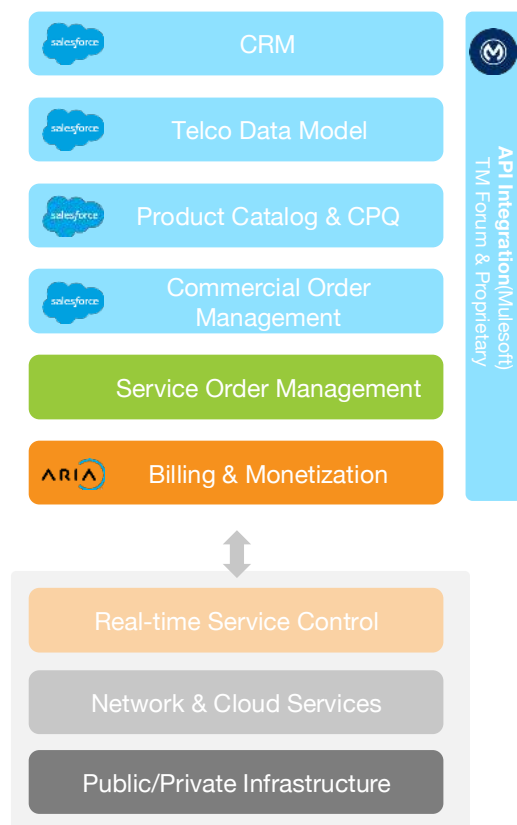

Accelerate Everything

Workflow and API Driven

From taking new products to market to activating orders faster, streamline your entire business and partner ecosystem using our workflow and API-oriented architecture.
